

EUROPEAN CIVIL PROTECTION
Together in the face of disaster

Second Civil Protection Forum

Brussels, 22-23 November 2007
Charlemagne building – stand n° 23

We cordially invite you to the Second Civil Protection Forum, where Sinergie will be present as exhibitor.

Focus of the forum

In times where natural and manmade disasters are on the increase, the debate on how to prevent, prepare for and respond to disasters never seems to cease. Moreover the adoption of new laws adds flavour to the subject. The Second Civil Protection Forum aims to bring together people involved or interested in civil protection. The forum will provide participants with a platform for the exchange of ideas and an opportunity to meet other people sharing the same interest or profession.

The forum aims to address anyone interested in civil protection - other EU institutions; national civil protection authorities; local authorities; municipalities; civil protection intervention teams; staff of operational centres; academics; media and journalists; non-governmental organisations; international, national and local associations; services connected to civil protection such as police forces, health and education services; humanitarian aid organisations; volunteers; and the public at large.

HUMAN RESOURCES FOR SINERGIE MEAN

- Enhancing integration among the various entities and functions involved in planning and playing in security and safety actions
- Empowerment of human resources by training and exchange of lessons learned
- Learn to be proactive and preventive to impacts

Focusing on the strictly connected interactions with the themes of security and safety, our forecoming activities and projects in 2008 will be on human, organisational, environmental, training and communication areas with a holistic approach.

These activities will be performed in collaboration with:

- Civil Protection organisations
- Humanitarian agencies
- Critical infrastructures
- Industries
- Research centers

Ongoing activities we'll present in the Stand:

PRE - EMERGENCIES

For enhancing communication and exchange between teams, planning and managing response to emergencies increasing integration and knowledge.

- We use a tool based on an analytical process that helps identify what specific elements can intervene and modify the course of events

To enhance well-being dimensions and design training programmes for operators and after-care providers intervening in maxi-emergencies

- We are preparing an international workshop on resilience and we are building a network of experts
